ALMA

Acquisitions. Through the good offices of Fr. Rice of El Retiro, Alma College Library received as a gift from Dr. John F. Lagan of San Francisco a set of the National Geographic Magazine complete from 1896 through 1951, together with all the supplements. The set, handsomely bound, is accompanied by a specially built Philippine mahogany bookcase. The donor wishes his gift to be a memorial to the Lagan family.

Very rare books recently added to the Library were C. D. d'Argentre's "Collectio Judiciorum de Novis Erroribus," 3 vols., 1724-36, a most important collection of decisions of the theological faculties of European universities from the beginning of the twelfth century up to 1713. Also very rare is M. Goldast's "De Monarchia Sancti Imperii Romani," 3 vols., Hanover, 1611-14. This is a valuable collection of medieval writings on Church and State. The "Chronica Apostolica del Colegio de Propaganda Fide de la Santa Cruz de Queretaro, Mexico," by Espinosa and Arricivita, 2 vols., 1746 and 1792, concerns the home college of the Franciscans who evangelized California and the southwestern states. Johann Suicer's "Thesaurus Ecclesiasticus e Patribus Graecis," 2 vols., 1728, and the Encyclopedia of Islam, 5 vols., Englished, are other acquisitions of moment.

The Regional Cooperation Committee of the Calif. Lib. Assn. met in the Library, May 1. Members came from UC, Stanford, Davis, Sutro Lib., Sacramento Lib., Pacific School of Religion.

Education Meets. Fr. Wm. Huesman read a paper on "Integration of College Studies by Means of Theology" before the college and university delegates at the Jesuit Education convention held at Rockhurst College, Kansas City, April 13-14. On May 14 Father gave to the Alma Theologians a detailed report of the principal speeches at this convention and at the NCEA meet.

Summer School. Fr. John Curran will give a course on the Gospels and Fr. Wall on Grace during the novices' summer session, June 16-July 25, at the Holy Names Novitiate, Los Gatos. Fr. Huesman will lecture on Soteriology and Mariology at the College of the Holy Names in Oakland during summer session. He will first go to Spokane to be one of the masters of ceremonies at ologians in St. Aloysius Church, ologians in St. Alloysius Church, June 21.

Writers. In Theological Studies, March issue, appeared Fr. Hagemann's review of E. Zeeden's book, "Martin Luther und die Reformation im Urteil des deutschen Luthertums." Mr. R. Ignatius Burns authored two more articles on Northwest history. In Mid-America (An Historical Review) for April he published "A Jesuit at the Hell Gate Treaty of 1855" (Fr. Hoecken). In the Records of the Am. Cath. Hist. Soc. of Philadelphia, March number, appeared his paper on "Coeur d'Alene Diplomacy in the Nez Perce War of 1877." Mr. De Rouen (Mo.) had printed in the Catholic School Journal, Feb. issue, an article on

"Advantages of the Daily Quiz," and in the May issue, "Religious Vacation Schools."

"It's a Dog's Life in Alaska" was Mr. Poole's contribution to Jesuit Missions magazine for May. He and Mr. Fallert (both Ore.) have been repeated contributors to this magazine.

Catechists. During August, Theologians will teach catechism at Redwood Estates and Chemeketa Park, residential areas in the hills near Alma, but quite distant from any church. Messrs. J. Bradley and Kapfer (Ore.) and T. Byrne organized the work, at the desire of the Los Gatos pastor.

Twenty Mexican children from the three centers where Alma catechists now teach were confirmed May 11 by Bishop Guilfoyle in Five Wounds Church, San Jose A party was held for the children afterwards. This was the first Confirmation in the history of the Mexican Mission.

Varia. In cooperation with the Archbishop's program, Alma College sent 25 Theologians to recite the Rosary over KSJO in San Jose at 6:45 p.m., May 6. Fr. John Shepherd led the recitation. The Rosary was relayed by phone to KROW in Oakland, thus reaching the entire Bay Area. Fr. Duce, during his study visitation, talked to the College Religion Academy, May 12, on practical considerations in introducing a revised program of religion courses. Mr. Porter spoke to the Juniors, May 2, on the way in which the Promises of the Sacred Heart fit in with the work of the Sacred Heart radio program. Fr. Giambastiani gave the Triduum before Renovation on April 30, the Solemnity of St. Joseph, Patron of Alma College. Fr. R. Shaules traveled to San Diego, May 5, to be with his mother, who had suffered a severe heart attack. Alma College now has an official front door. Bro. McFadden installed a doorbell for visitors, together with a double chime, at the entrance to the Main Building near the classrooms.

AZUSA

Mr. James Sheehy, one of our oldest and most enthusiastic retreatants, died April 12. For over 25 years he requested a week end exclusively his, when he would recruit from 30 to 40 retreatants from his home town, Long Beach. This practice began way back in the days of Fr. Sullivan when retreats were held during the summer months, first at Loyola High, later at the University, and finally at Manresa. He was the finest retreat captain one would wish, and to all his activity added constant benefactions. Fr. Whelan conducted the funeral from St. Anthony's Church in Long Beach, and also preached the funeral address. Other members of Manresa's faculty were present in the sanctuary. R.I.P.

Off-Campus. Fr. Whelan appeared as a guest speaker at the Passionist Retreat House in Sierra Madre, April 28, at the celebration of their centenary in the United States. Fr. Whelan gave a triduum to the girls at Marywood Catholic High School in Anaheim, and the Tre Ore at Claremont on Good Friday. Frs. Donovan and Odou were invited to give the laymen's week-end retreat at the Franciscan Retreat House in Phoenix, April 24. All of the Fathers have taken turns at the numerous calls for morning Masses, confessions, and conferences in various parishes and convents.

Visitors during the month included Fr. Connolly, Rector of Los Gatos, accompanied by Fr. Lipman; also Fr. Ford, new Rector of Loyola High, together with Fr. Seeliger, who had just finished an eight-day retreat to Sisters in Long Beach.

Fr. Donovan left for Loyola High, April 21, enroute after a few days to his new destination at Santa Clara. April 1, Bros. Belcher and Seiquist came for the month's experiment, replacing McNamara and Buckenmeyer who returned to Los Gatos two days later.

During April four retreats were given, two by Fr. Vaughan and one each by Frs. Whelan and Odou. The groups continue to be encouragingly large.

LOS GATOS

Fr. Silva preached the Tre Ore in New York City's St. Ignatius Church at the invitation of its rector, Fr. C. J. Hanley. Father also directed this year's Shakespeare production, "Coriolanus," presented by the Juniors as a feature of Fr. Rector's Day, May 7.

Fr. Duce, during his visitation, gave the Juniors a talk on his experiences as a member of the regional accrediting agency. The Juniors also heard Mr. Porter of Alma tell of his work helping to spread the Sacred Heart Program. Fr. Hageman gave the Renovation tridumm.

Fr. Perron again fooled the doctors at O'Connor Hospital and is back home again. He is still very weak but the doctor says that he is on the road to recovery again. Father McGreal is making rapid progress at the Maryknoll Sanatorium in Monrovia. He is in the middle of his "rehabilitation" schedule and should be released from the doctor's care sometime in June.

Fr. McKey had very good results from his wine-selling tour of the Midwest.

Varia. Negative debaters victoriously denied that "Compulsory education above the grammar school level should be abolished." Bros. Bounds and Sessing are renovating the Workmen's House. The Novices pounded the Juniors 11-0 in their annual baseball game. The Juniors and Novices are nightly singing the Litany of the Blessed Virgin at the Shrine of the Blessed Mother as part of the traditional May devotions.

LOYOLA HIGH SCHOOL

Contest Winners. Ned Welsh, a junior, placed first in the recent Christopher Essay Contest. Hiss 500-word essay, "How a Teen-Ager Should Prepare for a Vital Career," won the $500 cash prize. Reynold O'Donnell, a senior, won the Western Regional finals of the Hearst Oratorical Contest. He was the only representative from a Jesuit high school in Detroit, May 14, but did not win. In the Santa Ana One-Act Play Festival on April 25, Loyola's play, "Submerged," directed by Mr. Dempsey, was given a high rating. One of our boys received the trophy for the best actor of the Festival. The same boy received the best actor award in the high school division of the Archdiocesan One-Act Play Festival held at Immaculate Heart College May 17 and 18.

At the May 13 entrance examinations 430 candidates applied for admission and scholarships. Michael Kelleher, son of Frankie Kelleher of the Hollywood Stars, and Harry Olivar, son of the former coach at the University, placed first and third respectively.

A farewell dinner sponsored by the Henry Welch Guild and attended by many members of the community was given in honor of Fr. F. Harrington on April 29. Fr. Casassa, the principal speaker, traced the odyssey of Fr. Harrington from the land of grapes to the land of cactus.

Varia. Federal inspection of the ROTC was conducted May 7. The ROTC band played May 19 at the National Armory in Exposition Park for their annual exhibition. They played again in the Coliseum May 21 in the high school ROTC competition, defending the trophy they won for the past several years.

The baseball team, coached by Fr. Gaffney, entered the CIF playoffs. The Fiesta sale of tickets on a new Oldsmobile 88 was very successful. The Henry Welch Guild had its installation of officers May 8 in our new gym. The Jesuit Dads Club held its last meeting of the year in our auditorium May 12, and the Gold Cross Mothers had their final meeting of the year May 15.

Fr. John Connolly, Academic Vice-President at Loyola U, will be the principal speaker at the high school's commencement exercises June 7.

University

Rev. P. A. Gopaul, of the Society of St. Edmund, former USF student and first Negro priest from San Francisco, offered his First Solemn Mass in St. Mary's Cathedral, May 18. Bishop Donohoe presided, Fr. Mulcahy was assistant priest, Fr. T. R. O'Connor deacon, Fr. Markey subdeacon. Frs. Wm. Dunne and T. Reed were on the altar. (Frs. Markey and Reed had been teachers of the new priest.) The congregation filled even the broad steps in front of the Cathedral. In the evening a public dinner was held to honor Fr. Gopaul. He was the subject of a great deal of newspaper publicity which also brought the name of USF before the public.

Speakers. The German Consul spoke before a capacity crowd in the Lecture Room of Gleeson Library on the present crisis in Germany. Fr. Jerome D'Souza, S.J., UN delegate from India, also addressed a group in the Library. Both meetings were under the International Relations Club. Dr. Charles Mohun, an alumnus, talked to the combined Ethics sections on the subject of marriage. His talk was practically the same one he has been giving to the diocesan Cana Conferences. An open forum followed the class meeting.

B.V.M. Students and faculty from USF attended Mary's Hour in the Cathedral on the afternoon of May 4. In the evening the USF Sodality was host to the gathering for an informal social dance in the auditorium. Seven Catholic colleges of the Bay Area participated in the day's activities. Also honoring Our Lady was the annual May procession of the BVM statue, held in St. Ignatius Church with the community and the various Sodalities taking part. Coronation of the statue was followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Stage. The Schola Cantorum, a chorus of mixed voices with a brass choir, under the auspices of the University, presented a program of Choral Masterworks in the Opera House before a well-packed house. Comments were quite favorable, and the plan is to present a program each semester. Also well received was the College Players' presentation of "The Butter and Egg Man," a comedy by George S. Kaufman, staged in the University auditorium with three evening performances and a matinee for the Sisters.

Jesuit Book. Fr. Richard Mulcahy published his new book, "The Economics of Heinrich Pesch."

Fr. Alexis Mei, Dean of Arts and Sciences, was elected a Fellow of the California Academy of Sciences, April 15.

President's Day, May 14, started off with Mass celebrated by Fr. President (Wm. Dunne) and attended by the combined student bodies of the University and High School. Athletic events filled in the day, which ended in the evening with the combined faculties attending a dinner served in the auditorium, followed by a movie.

High School

Festival. The annual Festival was held in the new gymnasium May 9, 10, 11, under the auspices of the Fathers Club. Together with raffle tickets the affair netted over $17,000. The money is to help pay for the gymnasium.

A musical, "Souther (sic) Pacific" was staged by more than 60 SI students in the USF Little Theater, April 24, 25, 26, with standing room only for the three performances.

President's Day, May 14, included a morning baseball game in which the faculty topped the students, 9-7, a free lunch given to all the students at the High School, and a series of field events won by the seniors.

Quarterly. The spring edition of The Quill, SI's literary quarterly moderated by Mr. Prussing, was distributed to the student body and was very well received by all.

The Silver Medal Debate, May 13, was won by Bob Sullivan of 2B.

Sports. The varsity baseball team went down to defeat in the third game of a two-out-of-three series in the semifinals playoffs. The golf team, led by Mr. Wehner, took the city championship for the second consecutive year, going undefeated except to Poly by default.

May 24 the Sanctuary Society had a picnic at Villa Joseph. May 25 the Dads-Sons Picnic was held at Adobe Creek.

The seniors began repetitions May 19. Graduation this year will be June 15.

Community

On Ascension Thursday some 70 members of the community turned out at Olompoli for a very fine House Picnic. Fr. Wm. Dunne did the cooking.

Fr. Joseph Malaise died peacefully in his room after a heart attack. He had offered his Mass and returned to his room. Later in the morning when Bro. Connolly called to take him to the doctor, Father was found dead on the floor. The report of the doctor said he had been dead for about two hours.

Jesuit Mothers held their annual communion breakfast May 4. The Ladies Sodality staged their annual card party in the University Lounge. The Loyola Guild held their annual card party in the University auditorium. These functions were very well attended.

SANTA CLARA

Public Relations. Archbishop Mitty, desiring to help Catholic colleges increase their enrollment, recommended the organization of a lay recruitment group. The most recent meeting of this group was at USF, April 26. Frs. Hauck and Hynes attended and assisted in drawing up plans for furthering the Archbishop's purpose.

At Riordan High School, at an evening meeting for junior and senior students and their parents, May 19, Fr. Hynes spoke about opportunities at Santa Clara. He and Fr. James King were guests of the proctors at dinner before the meeting.

On Armed Forces Day, May 17, Fr. Hynes gave the Benediction before dinner at the newly activated Air Force Training Center at Parks Air Force Base. The Commanding General was interested in meeting the educators of this area and eliciting their interest in the work of this new training center.

Many Santa Clara citizens and students witnessed the scientific demonstrations staged by the College of Engineering at its annual Open House Exhibition in Montgomery Laboratories, April 23.

Devotions. Under Fr. Moore and the University Sodality, All Night Adoration on the eve of First Fridays was inaugurated in April among the boarding students. Each hall floor accepted an hour during which representatives assembled in the Mission Church to recite a nocturn of the Office of the Blessed Sacrament, hear a brief sermon, and spend the rest of the hour in private meditation. Students present after midnight were able to receive Communion. The April and May vigils each saw about 325 of the University's 600 boarders in attendance.

The Sodality also sponsored the daily recitation of the Rosary at 6:45 p.m. throughout the school year. Attendance grew steadily.

The annual Pilgrimage to St. Joseph's Shrine took place April 30. This historic practice brings the whole student body in procession to the outdoor Shrine of St. Joseph, on whose feastday in 1851 the work of the University was begun. After appropriate ceremonies the students walk in procession to the Mission Church for Solemn Benediction.

Speakers. Fr. Hauck addressed two important lay groups, the Lodi K.C. at their communion breakfast on April 27, and the Serra Club of SF on April 30. Fr. James Lyons of USF addressed the Catala Club, which he had founded when he was President of Santa Clara many years ago. Fr. Roberts took part in a panel discussion at the annual meeting of the Northern California Political Science Association held May 10 at San Mateo Junior College. The topic discussed was "The handling of the California State Law requirement that all public and private colleges and universities in the State teach courses in U.S. History, Constitution, ideals, and the principles of California state and local government."

Community. Fr. Stretch, after his serious operation in SF, returned to Donohoe Infirmary on April 25 and is recuperating nicely. During the stay of Fr. Provincial (J. O'Brien) at the University, Fr. Hugh C. Donavon was announced as the Spiritual Father for the community. He will replace Fr. McCummiskey, who, though somewhat improved, continues to reside in the infirmary. Shortly after Fr. Provincial's visitation Fr. James Donovan was assigned to the community and recently took up residence.

The alumni have been most active in organizing exceptional meeting at which Fr. Hauck has had an opportunity to present the greetings of the University and to explain its problems. Frs. Markey, J. Martin and Moore accompanied Fr. Rector to the April 22 meeting of the Peninsula Chapter in San Mateo. Mr. Gallagher, Head Football Coach, and Mr. Stefan, Alumni Secretary, attended an alumni gathering in Marysville, April 24, where a plaque was presented honoring the University's football team. Fr. Hauck attended a very successful alumni dinner-meeting in Sacramento, May 8, and another held May 15 at San Rafael for representatives of the Redwood Empire.

At the annual Law Society Banquet in the Fairmont Hotel, SF, Frs. Hauck, Hynes, Donavon and Martin were present, together with about 100 friends and alumni of the Law College, among them several judges.
